New York, April 18, '79.

Friend Murray:—I ship you today a lot of Ladies', Misses' and Children's hats purchased at Madam Pompadour's great bankrupt sale of millinery goods at such prices as to give you a fair profit and greatly undersell your competitors.

As ever your friend,

J. W. BRINK.

There is not a lady far or near,

Let her be poor or wealthy,

But can keep fashion's head gear,

Her complexion pure and healthy.

The shape of ladies' hats defy description,

Keep cool, you need not be in such a hurry.

The Louis XVI style is all the fashion,

You can buy them cheap from T. T. McREAY.

We still boast of southern chivalry and honor,

For as long as we can get credit it is useless to worry.

Pay the State debt with fifty cents on the dollar,

And with the spendthrifts buy cheap goods from MURRAY.

Elk River Flouring Mills.

These mills, one mile from Fayetteville, have recently been thoroughly repaired and furnished with new bolting cloths and the latest and most approved machinery, and can turn out superior Flour than any other mill in the county. We are now ready to grind at all times and guarantee satisfaction to customers. We invite farmers to give us a trial. BRADEN & THOMAS, oct. 24-1f.

DISSEMINATOR

A TRUE NEWSPAPER.

The Nashville American has thoroughly established itself as the truest and best of newspapers published in the Southern section of the Union. Its news is always the freshest and most entertaining that is to be obtained, and its editorial columns are just as opponents, and severe to false friends. It is never dictatorial, but warm. While it is fair in discussion, it is positive in its views, and its force is not confined to its convictions. By its unflinching attachment to the rights and interests of the people, it has become a power in Tennessee, and its influence is only surpassed by its popularity, not only in Tennessee, but in all the adjoining States.

The readers of the Oscar will also find that the miscellaneous columns of the American are full of interesting and useful, in the various fields of human enterprise, and that it can be safely commended, as a most excellent and valuable paper in the household, the work shop, the store, the home, and to all people in every vocation.

The weekly edition is of mammoth proportions, being 12 pages, of 72 columns, and from four to five times as large as any of the foreign weeklies that are offered at daily price. If you want the best, send for the American, which prints three editions daily, Semi-Weekly and Weekly, special copies of which will be sent on application, free of charge.

"Hamwood"

Was the Mecca of pilgrimage to a large number of persons on Wednesday, 2nd inst., who could command courage enough to brave the excessive heat, it being examination-day of Miss Lizzie March's school, taught at that place. The examination of the classes continued throughout the day. The readiness and correctness with which all questions were answered abundantly sustained the enviable reputation Miss March has gained of being one of our best instructors; it also proved conclusively that there were no less serious cut and dried to defraud patrons and visitors, but that every one stood on his merits. After the exercises, about 7 o'clock in the afternoon, a supper was spread under the friendly shelter of the old trees where every one could satisfy the cravings of his appetite, however high-toned his appetite may be. There was no necessity of one's eating a persimmon to contract his stomach, but on the other hand it would have been consistent for him to adopt some means to increase its capacities for there were enough good things for as many more as were present. A concert was given at night consisting of choruses, recitations, tableaux, &c. A small admittance fee was charged, the receipts about forty dollars, were donated to the Sunday and literary schools of that place. The exercises from their inception to the close was a continued success. The music rendered by Prof. Outenbush, on the violin, and Miss Merritt, the organist, deserves especial mention. Every one who sustained the character of a true lady or gentleman. No uniformed officers were necessary to see that the throng conducted itself in an orderly and quiet manner. We only reflect the sentiments of others when we express the wish that we may be afforded the opportunity of visiting "Hamwood" again. Perhaps our wish may be granted in the dim, distant future, about six months hence.

Gallows Fruit.

That mountainous section of country in East Tennessee brought into prominence by the execution of the Brasswell brothers has "perfectly splendid" prospects of another entertainment likened unto the first, Harmon Forester being the man whose neck is in danger. He married a woman on the 30th ult. because she had refused to lend his wife a dress. He was captured and lodged in jail.

Personal.

Miss Kate Thomas, of Columbia, is visiting her brother A. S. Thomas, Esq.

We are glad to see John S. Waddle, Esq., on the streets again.

Hon. John M. Bright arrived home from Washington last Saturday.

One of our jolliest friends, Capt. Jno. T. Cathey, unveiled things in the Oscar office last Friday.

Miss Lizzie Haynes, a Fayetteville belle, is visiting the family of Mr. James S. Miller, at Shelbyville Commercial.

Sales to take Place.

All sales of property advertised in the Oscar, or for which handbills may be printed at this office, will hereafter be noticed under the above heading free of charge. We ask attention to the following:

By J. G. Pitts and John Warden, mortgagees, at the courthouse, Saturday, August 2nd, the interest of R. A. Robinson in lands in Fayetteville and Oak Hill.

Watermelons and the colic are backward this year.

Speaking of the thermometer, "How is this for high?"

Crowded columns to-day compel the deferring of Mulberry temperance articles.

Presbyterian Mite Society meets to-morrow night at Mrs. E. B. Bagley's residence.

If it rains Maj. Sykes will be at Oak Hill next Saturday; if it does not, he does not think it will be necessary to be there.

That time approaches when you'll press your hands on your center of gravity and exclaim in tones of bitter anguish, "Oh! that watermelon!"

Maj. Wm. J. Sykes will speak at Renfro's Station, Saturday, July 19th, at 10 a. m., and at Boone's Hill on the same day at 4 p. m. Come one, come all.

Oak Hill Institute under the supervision of Prof. Himebaugh, is being repaired and put in excellent repair for the incoming term, which commences the first Monday in August.

Edison's talking machine, the Phonograph, was on exhibition in Fayetteville last Wednesday and Thursday nights. A description is not necessary as we have before published one of the wonder.

The buildings on the west side of the square are rapidly being pushed forward toward completion. When finished they will be second to no business houses in Fayetteville in appearance.

An excursion train under the management of Jack Renegar, will leave Fayetteville for Nashville on the 14th and return the following day. Round trip tickets $3. A great many persons intend going.

Our representative L. D. Suggs, Esq., made a speech at the courthouse last Monday, explaining why he voted in the Legislature against the 50-4 and local option bills. We regret that sickness prevented our hearing him.

We are requested to announce that the Sunday School Association of Middle Tennessee will meet in Columbia, on the 25th, 26th and 27th of the present month, and all Sunday Schools of 20 scholars or over are entitled to send a representative.

Maj. Sykes said that if it did not rain this week so as to enable the farmers to make good crops of corn, he would not feel like speaking on the railroad subject or asking them to subscribe, but he hoped that a kind Providence would in time supply them with abundant, refreshing showers.

John Washburn had the misfortune to crush an arm last Thursday. He was at work at a threshing in the neighborhood of Camargo; a band having come off he attempted to put it on while the machinery was in motion, when his arm was caught and broken in two places, above and below the elbow and a long, ugly cut in the forearm.

A correspondent—a very excellent gentleman—complains that his chickens have been stolen, leaving none for home use, and sold in town. Parties who have taken pains to raise fowls for home use have lost all they had by the depredations of thieves. They ask that town people when buying notice the parties offering the chickens, so that the thieves may be detected and brought to justice.

Musical Concert.

A couple of finished entertainments were given by "Miss White's Great Com. Operatic Company" last Monday and Tuesday nights at Bright Hall. The company is composed of two ladies and two gentlemen who cannot see the light of day, being totally blind. They drew good houses, and gave first-class entertainments. The mission of this company is a strictly charitable one. They wish to establish an industrial home to which all blind persons can go, after having been educated, and find employment and protection. They go from Fayetteville to Huntsville.

Quarterly Court.

It was ordered that George McAfee and Allen Short be removed by the sheriff from the county jail to the poor house.

The sum of $25 was voted to Amy and Jennie Michael, indigent—W. Z. Jennings, trustee.

Ordered that Assessors be allowed the fees allowed by law, for assessing taxes for the year 1879.

The bond of N. P. Carter, Judge of the Court, was fixed at $500.

Ordered that the County Judge draw warrant on the County Trustee for the expenses of Mrs. Jane Gant at the asylum, and that she remain there at the expense of the county.

Several persons were released from poll tax and land assessments, on account of over age and excessive valuations.

The Register was ordered to transcribe the mutilated records of his office, he receiving the fee allowed by law.

The County Judge was instructed to occupy the office he now uses.

Thomas Hamby, indigent, was voted $30 to be drawn quarterly by Wm. Buntley, trustee.

The Judge's report of claims against the county was read, received and appropriations made as follows:

J. M. Mison, pauper clothing, $ 4.00

J. K. Good, do, 3.00

R. B. Thompson, bottoming chairs, 1.20

A. A. Dula, coffin, 5.00

On last Monday there was a large number of people in town, from all parts of the county.

In the evening Maj. Wm. J. Sykes, according to appointment, addressed a very large audience in the circuit court room in regard to the railroad. Hot as the day was they listened to him with deep attention for more than an hour. We will not attempt to give a report of the speech—it cannot be reported as it was delivered. His remarks about the men who were attempting to cajole the farmers of the country by calling them "hard-headed and honest-hearted farmers" appeared to please the farmers who were present very much. Maj. Sykes said the men who were always attempting to flatter farmers and laboring men were their worst enemies, and showed that they had but little respect for their intelligence. He demonstrated that the town and county had the same interests. We wish we could give his remarks in regard to the benefits of railroads to poor men, but we can not. He appealed to the pride of Lincoln county not to let men of other counties build a railroad to their very town, when they are more able to do it than those very men. We will say no more as he has speeches to make in other parts of the county, where the people can have an opportunity to hear him.

Fayetteville Produce Market.

New wheat is coming in freely and all offerings are taken at good figures. Our buyers show considerable activity and pay full prices and in some instances over the value. This being the state of our market we find it difficult to make quotations; for instance, on Monday, the 7th, choice lots were readily taken at 85c, but Tuesday the same grade would not bring exceeding 80c, the latter price being the true value, but at the same time the shipping market was as good Tuesday as it was Monday. The whole of it is the buyers were rather excited Monday. We quote, choice white or amber, 80c; fancy, 82c; prime, 75c.

We quote corn from store, 60c. Bacon, scarce, and would command full prices. We quote, from wagons, Shoulders, 6c; Hams, good, 7c; Sides, 6c. Chickens, $1.25.

Flour, 2.00; 3.50. Butter, 10c; 15c. Meal, 7c; 7.5c. Lard, barrel, 6c.
